EXHIBITION ON SCREEN Van Gogh in Japan

Discovering Japanese art in Paris in the mid-1900s stirred Van Gogh's creative juices: he bought over 600 prints, interviewed artists, and created his own image of the country. Based on the exhibition from Amsterdam's Van Gogh Museum, this little-known chapter examines the evolution of a master artist with clear Asian precursors.

BROADWAY IN HD 42nd Street—The Musical

Captured live from London's West End, this beloved homage to the world of musical theater lights up the big screen with all its sequined, toe-tapping glory. Featuring the iconic songs "We're in the Money," "Lullaby of Broadway" and "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" this glorious revival celebrates a musical unlike any other.

Sun, 7/28 @ 4 pm

NATIONAL THEATRE LIVE IN HD The Lehman Trilogy

This absorbing, epic production charts the creation and implosion of the financial institution Lehman Brothers over a span of three centuries and many generations. Oscar-winner Sam Mendes (Skyfall) directs Simon Russell Beale, Adam Godley and Ben Miles, who deliver three virtuosic performances while collectively playing some 70 characters.
